Appendix 34: Sample ToR for RIPP Implementation Agency/NGO

I. Project Background

1. The livelihoods of people in the state of Assam are affected by water-related disasters including floods and riverbank erosion especially due to the vast flat floodplain of the Brahmaputra River - one of the world's largest rivers. Climate change impacts exacerbate these disasters and are projected to worsen the floods and riverbank erosion while Assam already suffers from recurrent flooding and continual riverbank erosion from the Brahmaputra River. These are critical development inhibitors of the state as natural hazards and remoteness have led to long-term slower development than the national average, while population growth and density are similar. Therefore, Assam continues to face high poverty, and its socioeconomic development has been hindered.

2. Riverbank erosion is one of the most prominent causes of disasters in Assam due to highly dynamic morphology of the Brahmaputra River and its tributaries. Since the Great Assam Earthquake in 1950, the river has widened from about 6 kilometers (km) to 9 km along its 650 km course in Assam eroding about 5.5% of Assam cultivable area destroying roads, homesteads, crops, and flood embankments. Since 1954, around 427,000 hectares (ha) of land (equivalent to about 7% of Assam area) have been eroded at an average annual erosion rate of 8,000 ha. Between 2000 and 2018, 93 locations eroded along the main stem of the Brahmaputra River in Assam causing damages to a total length of more than 400 km. Riverbank erosion disproportionately affects the poor, who face significant social hardships, such as loss of homesteads, lands, and crops, and are often displaced to fringe lands or urban slums. Disaster risks increase as the population grows, and the high population density of the state hinders people moving away from disaster-prone areas.

3. Erosion damage also extends to public infrastructure, including roads and flood embankments, and the high occurrence of riverbank erosion hinders construction and rehabilitation of flood embankments. About 40% of the state (ie: about 9.4% of the national flood prone area) is inundated on average annually during the monsoon by the Brahmaputra River and its tributaries, resulting in damages and loss of assets and crops. The threat of recurrent floods and riverbank erosion also discourages investment and leads to lower economic growth in the riparian areas. Effective flood and riverbank erosion risk management is therefore essential for economic growth, livelihood improvement, and poverty reduction in these locations. With a growing population as well as the expansion of settlements within the floodplain, future development will need to be carefully managed to protect the population from water-induced disasters. In addition, most of the length of the existing embankments system cannot be relied upon for protection from floods; during severe flood events, embankments are often overtopped or even breach which often leads to disaster. Furthermore, the growing population demands more reliable protection from riverbank erosion and flooding to safeguard their increasing assets and to sustain economic development.

4. Poverty and rural livelihoods. Assam's gross domestic product per capita grew by 5.3% in fiscal year 2020, slightly over the national average of 5.1%. However, it lags most states in reducing poverty and about 32% of its 31.2 million population (2011 census) live below the poverty line.<sup>1</sup> Despite job growth in nonfarm sectors, job creation is very low, and about half of the state's workforce rely on agriculture as a primary source of income.<sup>2</sup> Women make up 30% of agriculture

1 Government of India, Department of Science & Technology. 2020. Climate Vulnerability Assessment. Delhi.

2 World Bank. 2017. Assam - Jobs.

cultivators and 40% of agricultural wage laborers but own or operate only about 12% of the agricultural land area.<sup>3</sup> Women take responsibility for protecting vulnerable family members when disasters occur and are then burdened with disaster recovery.

5. Agriculture sector. Agriculture comprises 20% of Assam's gross domestic product. There are about 2.7 million farm families with farm sizes averaging 0.36 ha and 85% of landholdings are small or marginal.<sup>4</sup> About 75% of Assam farm families live in the Brahmaputra valley where 90% of the net cropped area is at risk of flooding. Flooding causes agriculture losses, deposits sand on fertile fields and the reduced productivity disproportionately affects small farmers, and especially female headed farms. Also, outmigration of men causes women additional burden with household responsibilities, farm production, and financial obligations with limited access to flood warnings, and little representation on decision-making bodies that would better help with flood response.

6. Disaster risk, climate change and river management. Assam is exposed to climate impacts such as extreme precipitation, floods, erosion, and drought, severely affecting livelihoods and food security. These are exacerbated by the state's increasing population density on arable land, unplanned urbanization, social vulnerability, marginalization, weak infrastructure, disaster risks, and environmental degradation. Of India's states and union territories, Assam is ranked seventh for likelihood of natural hazards occurring and 26th for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals.<sup>5</sup> These rankings largely result from the unpredictable and highly dynamic erosion processes of the Brahmaputra River. Since 1980, the frequency of devastating events has risen, and the Brahmaputra valley is among those with the highest projected increase in extreme flood events with climate change.<sup>6</sup> Long-term solutions have been challenging due to the complex interactions between riverbank erosion, embankments, and drainage infrastructure. These processes also hamper navigation as routes need continuous change in response to shifting sand bars and docking terminals are swept away where riverbanks erode.

7. Policy Framework. The 2012 National Water Policy addresses flood and erosion management emphasizing the need to plan investments within the context of climate change, expanding flood forecasting and monitoring, preparing frequency-based flood maps and increase preparedness with up-to-date disaster management plans.<sup>7</sup> The 2007 Assam Water Policy promotes the use of structural and nonstructural interventions for effective flood control, including cost-effective erosion measures using bioengineering solutions, while the 2010 Assam Disaster Policy promotes proactive, holistic, and integrated disaster management.<sup>8</sup> Under the AIFRERMIP, a Flood and Erosion Management Plan, finalized in 2020, identifies 115 vulnerable sites along the Brahmaputra River in Assam, documents site issues, includes an annual maintenance plan, and prioritizes proposed solutions. The 20-years Perspective Infrastructure Development Plan for Assam envisages inland water transport's share of cargo to increase from 3% to 10%, reaching 35 million metric tons per annum, a ferry service for 18 million passengers per annum, and an increase in employment of 2 million persons.<sup>9</sup>

8. Securing the livelihoods of the population living on floodplain needs to be addressed through public sector interventions aiming at: (i) mitigating the economic losses and social displacement caused by riverbank erosion, (ii) reducing the economic losses resulting from flooding, and (iii) providing a secure environment to facilitate an increase in agricultural and industrial production and to enhance related economic activities.

9. The multi tranche financing facility (MFF) between the Government of India and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) for the Assam Integrated Flood and Riverbank Erosion Risk Management Investment Program (AIFRERMIP) was approved by ADB in 2010. The facility increased the reliability and effectiveness of flood and riverbank erosion risk management systems in priority reaches along three subprojects of the Brahmaputra River through structural and nonstructural interventions, policy strengthening, and institutional and knowledge bases. The second and final tranche of the MFF was physically completed on 18 October 2020. Over the past 20 years, ADB has supported development and innovation of a cost-effective systematic river stabilization approach introduced in Assam in 2010 via AIFRERMIP, providing a first opportunity to increase the state's disaster resilience and paving the way for replicability.

10. Under the AIFRERMIP, the currently named Flood and River Erosion Management Agency of Assam (FREMAA) was established by the state government as the project's executing agency to demonstrate holistic and sustainable FRERM in partnership with ADB. The investment has demonstrably strengthened FREMAA through capacity building.

11. The Climate Resilient Brahmaputra Integrated Flood and Riverbank Erosion Risk Management Project in Assam (CRBIFRERMIP) has a total cost of approximately $500 million, with each phase costing $250 million. The Phase I loan became effective in February 2024. The project is financed through an ADB loan of $200 million and counterpart funds from the Government of Assam (SGoA).

12. SGoA is requesting ADB for additional financing of $250 million under Phase II of CRBIFRERMIP. Additional financing of CRBIFRERMIP will build upon the experience from the recently completed ADB-financed Assam Integrated Flood and Riverbank Erosion Risk Management Investment Program (2010-2020) (AIFRERMIP) and presently ongoing works of CRBIFRERMIP under phase – I. The project will focus on the Main Stem of Brahmaputra in Assam and follow a climate-resilient holistic, integrated, systematic, and reach-wise approach to flood and riverbank erosion risk management.

13. The main objectives of the project are to (i) reduce in a climate resilient way economic vulnerability and social disruption induced by flood and riverbank erosion in selected flood and erosion prone areas along the main stem of the Brahmaputra River in Assam; (ii) strengthen the institutional capacity for climate and disaster resilient FRERM; (iii) strengthen the knowledge-base for informed decision-making on preventive measures, including forecasting and warnings, asset management, and preparation of river stabilization guidelines and plans; (iv) stabilize selected river reaches integrating erosion and flood protection works to ultimately enhance navigation, and recover lost floodplain land ('land reclamation'); and (v) enhance the livelihoods of the riverine population.

Project proposed impact, outcome, and outputs

14. To continue successful outcome of AIFRERMIP, the project will focus on (i) applying and demonstrating a comprehensive integrated risk-informed approach to build climate and disaster resilience; (ii) transferring knowledge and advanced technologies and practices for holistic natural resources management, asset management, and co-benefits optimization; and (iii) enhancing women's climate and disaster resilience and empowerment.

15. The project will be aligned with the following impact: make Assam a disaster resilient state (encompassing substantial and inclusive disaster risk reduction; reduction in loss of lives and livelihoods; increased protection of property and assets; and enhanced capacity to cope with disasters).<sup>10</sup>

16. The outputs, as described below, will result in the following outcome: climate resilient flood and riverbank erosion mitigation systems in the Brahmaputra River enhanced.

17. The project will combine structural and nonstructural measures in 44 high-priority flood- and erosion prone areas to contribute to the broader stabilization of the river. The 44 high-priority subprojects characterized by a high risk of riverbank erosion, and valuable assets under threat, are in: Dhemaji, North Lakhimpur, Biswanath, Sivasagar, Jorhat, Golaghat, Sonitpur, Nagaon, Morigaon, Barpeta, Goalpara and Dhubri District. Apart from those sites construction of pump house at Kamrup District is also included in Phase-II.

- (i) Output 1: Climate resilient flood and riverbank erosion risk mitigation measures implemented and maintained in subproject areas. This output will apply an integrated river stabilization approach developed and refined under the JMREMP, AIFRERMIP and FRERMIP.<sup>11</sup> Specifically, the Water Resources Department (WRD) will: (i) construct about 68.03 km of anti-erosion riverbank protection work to stabilize the river and improve its navigability; (ii) place about 10.046 km of pro-siltation measures such as porcupine screens to induce sediment deposition and facilitate stabilization of the river corridor; and (iii) construct new, 32 km of climate resilient flood embankments, including sluice gates, fish passes, and drainage structures in critical areas to maintain river-floodplain interconnectivity to enhance biodiversity.<sup>12</sup> As learned from prior investments, construction contracts will include provisions for 5 years of monitoring, adaptive maintenance, and emergency works from construction completion to improve sustainability. Assam Agroforestry Development Board (AADB) will pilot nature-based solutions such as reed plantations to promote sediment deposition and reduce rain cuts on slopes, as well as wetland rehabilitation.
- (ii) Output 2: Knowledge-based FRERM planning strengthened. This output will further develop key agencies' knowledge bases by improving various decision support tools initiated under AIFRERMIP and will strengthen the state's institutional capacity to deliver FRERM, thereby promoting disaster resilience of the state and affected communities. Specifically, Output 2 will: (i) strengthen flood forecasting and early warning systems; (ii) undertake flood mapping to identify people and infrastructure at risk of flooding and enable better land use planning and management on risk-sensitive land; (iii) improve erosion prediction and embankment breach models to prioritize maintenance; (iv) enhance asset management systems and conduct life-cycle reliability analysis to improve maintenance decisions; (v) gather data through topographic and bathymetric surveys, flow and sediment measurements, and asset condition surveys; and (vii) strengthen existing guidelines for flood and riverbank protection design to address climate impacts and resilience, update river stabilization principles, and document the effectiveness of nature-based solutions. These outputs will also contribute to an update of the 2020 Flood and Erosion Management Plan.

(iii) Output 3: Vulnerable people’s livelihoods and resilience improved. This output will continue prior efforts and directly improve the livelihoods and disaster resilience of poor and destitute people living on the flood embankments and charlands within the project areas who were severely affected by floods and bank erosion. The project has a gender equity theme categorization and will specifically target women. Activities will: (i) establish eight modern weaving centers, provide sewing machines, and train female headed households and female self-help groups to spin, weave, and market silk; (ii) increase vegetable production by providing climate resilient seeds, promoting improved agricultural practices, and extending marketing support; (iii) provide vocational training for unemployed youth; (iv) raise awareness on flood and riverbank erosion; and (v) strengthen disaster preparedness and emergency response (also via provision of equipment at district and regional level). Support for subsistence and small farmers will include: (i) assistance creating agriculture and fisheries businesses; (ii) identifying income opportunities associated with the nature-based solutions in Output 1;<sup>13</sup> and (iii) upgrading eight rural markets. Further, the graduation approach will be piloted to complement the various state-led initiatives that strengthen beneficiaries’ wellbeing by providing livelihood assistance through agriculture, livestock, fisheries, industries, and vocational training activities.<sup>14</sup> Beneficiaries will be riverine producer collectives registered as farmer producer companies (FPC).

18. The project is estimated to cost about $250 million.

Indicative project implementation arrangements

19. The Project is divided in to 45 subprojects and spread in 13 districts. The four subprojects are: (i) Dhemaji, ii) North Lakhipur, iii) Biswanath, iv) Sivasagar; v) Jorhat, vi) Golaghat, vii) Sonitpur, viii) Nagaon, ix) Morigaon, x) Kamrup, xi) Barpeta, xii) Dhubri ,xiii) Goalpara . The indicative implementation arrangements are summarized in Table 2.

- Verify Displaced Persons (DPs) at site through verification surveys including those households who though identified earlier during baseline have now lost their land.
- Conduct additional survey to identify absentee titleholder etc. and update RP accordingly as and when required incorporating verification findings.<sup>15</sup>
- Educate the DPs on their entitlements, payment processes and related documentation requirements.
- Ensure that the DPs are given their full entitlements as due to them, as per the entitlements given in the RP, as may be modified by FREMAA and approved by ADB from time to time.
- Provide support and information to DPs for income restoration.
- Assist the DPs in relocation and rehabilitation, including counselling, and coordination with the local authorities.
- Assist the DPs in redressal of their grievances (through the grievance redressal process set up by the project)

IV. Subproject Land Acquisition and Resettlement Impacts

25. As per ADB's SPS and based on assessment of land acquisition requirement and anticipated resettlement impacts, the project will be categorized as "A"<sup>16</sup> for involuntary resettlement and "B" for indigenous people. The proposed Project interventions will be carried out on underwater areas and above water areas along the banks of the Brahmaputra River. The project's underwater works will have no IR impacts. However private land will be acquired for carrying out above water work and construction and rehabilitation of embankments. Based on the preliminary assessments after joint survey with the revenue department, the estimated land requirement for the project (as presented in the Table 3) is around 243.35(601.09 acres) hectares out of which 57.18 hectares (431.29 acres) will be private land and 174.61 hectares (431.29 acres) will be Govt. land. Tentatively 978 households will be affected which includes 885 titleholders and 93 non-titleholders are already identified to be affected under the Project. Data presented below are based on the preliminary survey and tentative estimates. All the data will be updated during the execution of the project.

<sup>16</sup> According to ADB SPS 2009, involuntary resettlement (IR) category A is triggered when 200 households or more will be affected by land acquisition and involuntary resettlement.

A. Introduction

1. The Flood and River Erosion Management Agency of Assam (FREMAA), Government of Assam implements the Climate Resilient Brahmaputra Integrated Flood and Riverbank Erosion Risk Management Project in Assam (CRBIFRERP) under Asian Development Bank (ADB) financing. The project follows a climate-resilient holistic, integrated, systematic, and reach-wise approach to flood and riverbank erosion risk management for the main stem of the Brahmaputra River. Incorporating structural and nonstructural measures in selected river reaches in Assam, the project aims to (i) reduce economic vulnerability and social disruption induced by flood and riverbank erosion in four selected flood-prone subproject areas along the main stem; (ii) strengthen the institutional capacity for climate change-oriented flood and erosion management; (iii) develop further the knowledge base for informed decision-making on preventive measures and preparation of river stabilization guidelines and plans; (iv) stabilize selected river reaches by integrating climate-resilient riverbank erosion and flood protection works to ultimately enhance navigation and recover/reclaim lost floodplain land and charland; and (v) enhance the livelihoods of the most vulnerable riverine population.
2. The project is classified as Category A<sup>17</sup> for Involuntary Resettlement (IR) and Category B for Indigenous Peoples (IP) safeguards per the ADB's Safeguards Policy Statement (2009).
